LETTER FROM ZOE

Dear Members, Partners and Key Collaborators,

Happy New Year!

It is hard to believe that 2025 is here and with that the legislative budget session, inauguration of a new governor and president and the start of many key appointments that the governor elect made prior to starting in his role as governor. You can see all of these roles and titles on page 13. The Council welcomes each of these individuals and we look forward to working with them in continuing our work towards our vision of building the health and well-being for all Hoosiers.

One of these members doing this great work is Bowen Health. You can see an update on their crisis services in our member highlight on pages 8 - 12.

One of the ways we have reached this vision is through our system's commitments towards crisis services. The Council worked with Blue and Co on a Return On Investment report (ROI) that you can find on page 6 - as well as a press release to share this information with anyone that would benefit. Crisis services alone last year saw a significant return on investment for both our hospitals and jails.

As we head into this legislative session it is important to know this ROI and what our fiscal ask is to our legislature. You can see this one-page summary on page 6.

Please share this and the invitation to the Council's February 10 Pack the State House Day for Mental Wellbeing - found on page 26 - with your local legislature, staff, key collaborators, and board members. To register for this and our PAC event please visit 2025 Indiana Council Winter Conference Registration.

Not only was January 1 the start of the New Year it was also the start of the Indiana Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics pilot demonstration. With the start of this demonstration, I do want to take a moment to reflect on the all the work from policy to operations that needed grit, commitment and collaboration to get us to this point. If you were a part of any of this work, THANK YOU! To learn more about some technical assistance resources and an update on CCBHC and data on page 7.

There are several other state and federal updates, resources (988 and Substance Use Disorder Treatment Month tool kits) and funding opportunities to help you with getting the year started off right on pages 13 - 19.

WELCOME TO 2025!

Thank you to our Racial, Equity and Leadership Committee, and Dr. Gina Forrest from Aspire for another successful Connection Hub Educational webinar on Cultural Competency. We look forward to the next! By the time this is out this Connect Hub and Dr. Martin Luther King Day took place. The efforts of this group reached over 100 people, which I think Dr. King would be proud and humbled to see. May we all continue his work that he states in his "I Have a Dream" speech. "I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out our true meaning of its creed: We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal."

The council is proud to be launching an Older Adult Mental Health Certification program in partnership with Humana and Boston University. To learn more about the program and to register see page 7.

As you can see 2025 is starting off with a lot taking place! The Indiana Council is committed to ensuring that you as our members have what you need to have the best year yet in reaching our vision. Together we will continue to do great things for those we serve and each of you who serves them.

In advocacy,

Zoe

The Indiana Council of Community Mental Health Centers

represents the collective interests of all community mental health centers (CMHCs) currently certified and accredited to provide community-based behavioral health services across all ninety-two counties in Indiana.

CMHCs in Indiana served over 300,000 behavioral health consumers in 2023. CMHCs provide services primarily to those suffering from severe behavioral health and substance abuse conditions which further reduce additional costs to society by directing coordinated care to our most vulnerable citizens.

COMMITTEE UPDATES

Data committee

In addition to providing space for discussing and tracking CCBHC data/DARMHA transformation matters during the past quarter, the Data Analytics committee, led by Demetrius Dillard as chair and Ron Guidotti as co-chair, has been focused on defining "governance" as it pertains to data and asking members to evaluate the status of their data governance plan, even if not formalized. Members are encouraged to do things such as consider their current in-house data governance committee structure, keep roles/responsibilities of personnel defined (name the staff within their governance plan to provide role clarity), have systems for data quality checks and lifecycle management, and address quality issues as they arise.

A population health tool will ultimately streamline processes in identifying care gaps and data silos, but, in the interim, data stewards need to stay vigilant for these issues.

A good reminder for all, especially for frontline staff, is that data is not collected just for the sake of collecting it. Complete, accurate, and valid data not only provides evidence of quality measure trends but is also paramount to setting operational benchmarks for informed business decision making. In short, when leveraged appropriately, data has potential to be truly transformative for an organization.

Committee members have been asked to submit their agency's data governance plan to openly share with each other as a learning opportunity.

They may be emailed to:

Demetrius Dillard demetrius.dillard@aspireindiana.org, Ronald Guidotti rguidotti@porterstarke.org, copying Nancy Henry nhenry@indianacouncil.org.

In the next quarter, Nancy will be working with the 16 centers non-CCBHC demo sites on CCBHC Bridge Utilization Data quality.

Detailed information to follow via email so please stay tuned.

Marketing Committee

The Marketing Committee met on Dec. 19, 2024.

Lee Ann Jordan shared council updates and important dates for the months of January and February.

The committee spent time discussing the following:

- marketing initiatives that are working well to promote Mobile Crisis and CRSSU
- discussed how centers are promoting both 988 and their local crisis number
- continued discussion around recruitment activities for nurses, therapists, and social workers.

Child & Adolescent Committee

The C&A committee is working to identify the benefits of CCBHC for youth mental health care. In addition, the committee is exploring how CCBHC and other youth programs, such those funded by DCS and Wraparound will work with CCBHC.

Our Plymouth, Marshall County, center

History

Bowen Health was incorporated in 1960 and began operations in 1961 as Four County Mental Health Clinic, offering outpatient psychiatric care to Kosciusko, Marshall, Wabash, and Whitley counties.

In 1966 Huntington County was added and the name changed to Five County Mental Health Clinic. In the 1970s the Center became a Community Mental Health Center and added a psychiatric hospital housed inside an area healthcare facility. In 1977 the name was again changed to The Otis R. Bowen Center for Human Services, named in honor of Governor Otis Bowen, a local physician from the Center's service area.

Starting in 1993, transitional living facilities were built to serve chronically mentally ill adults. In the 1990s the Center changed its name to Bowen Center and began providing community-based services. In the 2000s the center relocated its inpatient unit to a new standalone psychiatric hospital in Pierceton, IN, and added Allen and St. Joseph, Elkhart, Starke, and Noble counties to its services area. A few years later LaGrange, Steuben, and DeKalb were added. In 2020 the Center added primary care to its services and in 2024 changed its name to Bowen Health.

Mission

The mission of Bowen Health is to strengthen its communities and to improve the health and well-being of those it is privileged to serve.

Bowen Health treats the whole person by delivering care that addresses physical health, behavioral health, addiction recovery, life skills coaching, and more. Bowen Health is a safety net organization that serves people who have nowhere else to turn for help. Medicaid is welcome, and no one is turned away for an inability to pay. Bowen Health's dedication to providing life-changing care helps its patients live their best lives longer.

The new spacious lobby offers comfort and privacy for patients.

Bowen Health is committed to providing a culture of belonging for each patient, employee, and community member because everyone has the right to be treated fairly and respectfully. Recognizing, understanding, and appreciating cultural diversity factors, such as: religion, ethnicity, language, nationality, sexual orientation, class, gender, age, disability, health differences, and more, helps provide the best possible care to patients and a supportive, healthy environment for staff.

Rebranding

In October 2024, Bowen Center was changed to Bowen Health to more fully represent the organization as a health system. This new name reflects the organization's mission and commitment to delivering comprehensive healthcare to northern Indiana.

"We started in 1961 as Four County Mental Health Clinic, and in the 1970s, we became Otis R. Bowen Center for Human Services in honor of Indiana's first two-term governor," says Dr. Rob Ryan, Bowen Health President and CEO. "But, in the last 5 years, we have seen extraordinary growth, and we knew we had to change to meet the needs of our patients. Many individuals living with mental illness do not prioritize their physical health and, as a result, have a shorter lifespan. So, in 2020, we began including physical health in our locations to add to our mental health, addiction recovery, and skills coaching services. Soon we will add dentistry, optometry, and other specialties. With these changes, Bowen Health better describes who we've become and where we're heading," says Dr. Ryan.

With locations and programs in more than two dozen northern Indiana counties and online therapy and psychiatric services offered throughout the state, Bowen Health continues to strengthen communities by improving the health outcomes for its residents.

Integrated care

Being nimble and adapting to change quickly has allowed Bowen Health to become the largest community mental health center in the state and, in 2020, was one of the first to offer primary care to its patients. Finding new ways to help improve patients' well-being means retooling or reimagining what services are offered and how they are provided.

Understanding that the integrative healthcare model would improve and extend lives, Bowen Health began adding primary care services at its existing locations in 2020. Today, all Bowen Health locations offer primary health care in addition to their mental health, addiction recovery and skills coaching services.

New buildings

In January 2024, Bowen Health cut the ribbon in Columbia City for the first new building specifically designed to operate under its integrated-care model. Later in the year, the second new building opened in Plymouth, and ground was broken in Warsaw for the third. New buildings in Huntington and Wabash are expected to be completed in the next two years and more locations are planned.

"We know people with a mental illness have a lifespan 20 years shorter than someone without a mental illness, so we had to do everything in our power to solve that as soon as we could," said Dr. Rob Ryan, Bowen Health president and CEO. "And as some health services are starting to leave communities, we are so pleased to be able to step up and fill the gap, especially for underserved populations."

Crisis Services

Bowen Health offers Crisis Receiving and Stabilization Services to anyone experiencing a mental health crisis. If someone walks into any Bowen Health facility in crisis,

If someone walks into any Bowen Health facility in crisis, no matter what they define that crisis to be, they will get Bowen Health and officials celebrate the opening of a new Crisis Response and Stabilization Services facility in Pierceton

the help they need.

The goal of Crisis Receiving and Stabilization Services is to de-escalate a mental health crisis by providing less restrictive care in a comfortable environment. Studies have shown that this approach can be more effective than hospitalization, can prevent future crises, and can save lives.

Crisis stabilization provides law enforcement and families another option when they don't know where else to turn. Bowen Health collaborates with local hospitals, behavioral health providers, law enforcement, first responders, social service agencies, and others for referrals. The purpose is to not only meet community needs but also to reduce hospital emergency room visits and the need for first responders and other community resources to respond to mental health crises when their services can be used in other areas.

In May 2024, Bowen Health announced the opening of an expanded Crisis Receiving and Stabilization Services unit located alongside the Bowen Health Psychiatric Hospital in Pierceton, IN. The 24/7/365 facility offers a safe place for people to calm down, receive brief mental health therapy and/or medication management, and be connected to community resources such as housing, transportation, and other necessary support. Guests are provided short-term observation and stabilization for under 24 hours in a comfortable setting. Should hospitalization be required, they can be admitted to Bowen Psychiatric Hospital right down the hall.

988 mobile crisis response teams

Bowen Health was also recently granted a Mobile Crisis Response Designation from the Indiana Division of Mental Health and Addiction. That distinction allows Bowen Health, in partnership with 988, to dispatch trained Mobile Crisis Teams to individuals in the community wherever they are if they are unable to come to a Bowen Health location. Bowen Health's Mobile Crisis Response teams will provide services beginning in February.

Collaboration with Whitley County

In January 2024 Bowen Health – Columbia City created a mental health response program alongside Whitley County courts and law enforcement initially for youth, and recently expanding to adults, that has had 100 percent success in getting youth and adults into treatment and keeping them out of the court system. This process, funded via Whitley County Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI) and probation department, works in tandem with Bowen Health Crisis Response Teams in other counties.

Peer Counselors

An important piece in the crisis response puzzle is who patients meet when they are in crisis. More than a dozen trained peer support specialists, professionals with lived experience with substance abuse or mental health situations, serve as part of the 988 response teams.

"We've witnessed the power of having someone sit beside the guest and say, I've been where you've been. I'm here to support you. We'll figure this out together,'" said Bowen Health Peer Supervisor Rachael Adams.

She oversees a staff with a variety of experiences. "Each peer has their own unique lived experience. So, when a guest comes in, odds are they're going to encounter someone who's had similar lived experiences."

Rachael Adams, Bowen Health Peer Supervisor

Bowen Health nurtures a culture of caring for its staff and invests in their financial well-being to help them navigate the crucial role work/life balance has on living their best lives longer. Competitive pay, benefits, and work practices help attract strong team members who are valued for their skills and input. Individualized growth plans are available to each employee that provides a career path, education benefits, and leadership development programs. Bowen Health believes in a holistic approach to healthcare and proudly provides staff with a full range of physical healthcare benefits and opportunities to help them take control of their own physical well-being, including access to free or low-cost primary care services.

I am grateful that the Indiana Council has met with Mitch Roob several times regarding CCBHC and Crisis and he is well educated on the model. I am also grateful for the work we have done on a federal level with Senator Braun on CCBHC. As a result during a state transition, they are continuing our system's transformation with the CCBHC Demonstration with our 8 CMHCS on January 1,2025. We will advocate for the much-needed funding to continue these services and to add the other 16 by 2027. We will need to be intentional, focused on the data and the outcomes and be fiscally responsible every step of the way to get us to this full transformation. We will keep you posted as other directors such as DMHA are named.

It is key during this transition to work with your local legislators and connect with them. Please invite them to attend the council's legislative day on February 10.
